Free Press, Free Pulpits Both Part of Free America

By HARVEY WALTERS Manager of the Georgia Press Association The work of religious groups is accomplished through organizations involving the majority of the people in every American community. To a newspaper reporter or editor this means another important segment of community life to be "covered."

According to the National Council of Churches, more people are involved in organized religious activity today than ever before in the history of the nation. The omission of important church news can easily offend more readers than would a similar oversight on the sports page or in the comic section.

Church News

Churches are news and the proper handling of religious news by today's newspaper people is both an obligation and a responsibility.

Newspapers serve religion by announcing dates and places of important church meetings. They introduce the new pastor and his family to the local congregation and to the community-at-large, with details of the pastor's training and experience.

Newspapers present pictures and stories of new church buildings. They bring news and pictures of special services during the Christmas, Thanksgiving, Easter and other seasons of the year. They recognize and write about special services where people pray together for peace or for some other deeply felt need.

They bring news of missionaries and they tell of youth rallies, young adult clubs, Sunday School outings and church picnics.

Serve All Religions Newspapers also serve religions by refusing to support one religious belief as opposed to another. Benjamin Franklin set the pattern for this policy in early American journalism. He suggested the opposing religious factions should present their views to the public through printed broadsides or pamphlets, which he said he would gladly print for a price. There is a common heritage in America shared by newspaper and church people alike. The right to know and the right to worship were held in the highest esteem by our forefathers and both of these rights found their way into our Bill of Rights.

Free Tradition Many people do not see the connection between a free press and a free pulpit. The connection in Colonial America was discovered as free-speaking pastors and free-writing editors kept one another company in the prisons of the Colonial governors.

Newspapers will continue serving religion in America and it is appropriate during National Newspaper Week (Oct. 1-8) to recognize the newspaper's role in the support of our church projects and activities. What better way for us to serve than through the greatest avenue of service... our community churches!

News Deadline Of 5 p.m. Set On Church Items

Churches turning in items for publication in the Thursday HERALD are asked to have it in by 5 p.m. Monday. A printing deadline requires strict adherence to this rule. Items turned in after that time will be published in Sunday's HERALD, in accordance with the paper's policy of service to the community.

Church Plans Member Drive

The Church of God, 2230 Cabrillo Ave., Sunday will begin a six week Sunday school campaign.

The first Sunday will be "Children's Day," with each child attending to receive a gift. The child under 13 who bring in the most new children will receive a special gift and all visitors will receive souvenirs.

In charge of the Campaign are the pastor, the Rev. George W. Broome, and Reuben J. Pearson, Sunday school superintendent.

Dunham said, "In one sector world families were taken to prison and the male members of the families were beaten senseless before their own wives and children. Other male witnesses were kicked and hit with rifle butts until they were bleeding and fell exhausted. Some were beaten and left unconscious on the ground in the patio of the prison with blood running out of their ears, nose and mouth."

Witnesses Seek Lifting of Ban On Missionaries

Jehovah's Witnesses of the Torrance congregation Thursday met to approve a petition asking the Dominican Republic to lift its ban of last July 25 restricting the religious activity of the movement there.

According to Mr. G. F. Dunham, presiding minister of the Torrance congregation, the lengthy petition cited specific names and places of police brutality that were personally authenticated by eight of the 10 American missionaries departed Aug. 3 from the Dominican Republic. The missionaries related their experiences at a regional assembly in Baltimore where the petition was originally adopted Aug. 24 by 33,091 of Jehovah's Witnesses in attendance.

The petition was addressed to Generalissimo Trujillo, dictator of the Caribbean republic, and named the Roman Catholic Church as sharing the blame for the government's action.

Presbyterians Starting Work On Church Site

The recently acquired church site at 22790 Ocean Ave. has been the center of much activity this past week by members and friends of the Torrance Community Presbyterian Church.

Dr. David Calderwood, pastor, announced Sunday the appointment of a planning committee to handle preparing the site for building, and stated that preparations for grading the site were already underway. The committee consists of Frank Kellogg, chairman; Don Barker and John Peters of Torrance, and Robert Anderson and Henry Mattox of Los Angeles.

Sunday School is being held at the Sea-Aire recreation building each Sunday at 9:30 when there are classes for all ages. The fall roundup attendance contest is in progress between the boys and the girls. The losing team will treat the winning team. There are individual prizes, also; the grand prize is an engraved trophy.

St. Teresa's Guild to Hold Food Sale Sunday

A food sale will be held between Masses this Sunday at St. Margaret Mary's Catholic Church, 235th and Eshelman Ave., Lomita, according to Mrs. Laura Ransau, chairman.

Sponsored by St. Teresa's Guild, all types of food will be sold. Coffee and doughnuts also will be served.

'Unreality' Named Topic This Sunday

The Lesson-Sermon in the Christian Science churches on Sunday deals with the reality of the things of God and the inherent unreality of all that is unlike God. "Hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?" keynotes the Golden Text from I Corinthians (1:20). The subject is "Unreality."

God's promise of blessedness and healing for those who serve him, as revealed to Moses, is given in the Lesson-Sermon from Exodus (23:25). "And ye shall serve the Lord your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee."

A correlative passage follows from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Truth is God's remedy, for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only what is untrue. Hence the fact that, today, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick (p. 142).

HARRY B. MACRAE ... Speaks Tonight

McRae to Speak At Christian Science Church

The availability of healthier, happier, more abundant living through spiritual understanding will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given here tonight at 8 p.m. by Harry B. MacRae of Dallas, Tex.

Mr. MacRae, a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in the church at 218th and Manuel Ave. under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist of Torrance. His subject will be "Christian Science: Its correct view of God and man brings healing."

The lecture is free, and local members have invited the public to attend.

Mr. MacRae became interested in Christian Science while completing a premedical course at the University of Cincinnati through a physical healing of his father. He withdrew from a business career in 1932 to devote his full time to Christian Science healing. Since 1937 he has been a teacher of Christian Science, and since 1947 he has served as a Christian Science lecturer, traveling widely to speak on Christian Science in this country and abroad.

Longren Aircraft Company employees will receive Asian flu vaccinations.

When the contagious effects of the flu were first announced, the company decided to sponsor an early inoculation program.

"This inoculation program works to the advantage of all concerned," said Hampden Wentworth, Longren president. "By protecting the health of our people, we protect the community as well as our delivery commitments to customers."
